Now we are ready to start.

Dialog A.

- Feeling tired?
- Yeah, I've been on the treadmill for half an hour already.
- You take your fitness classes very seriously, don't you?
- I have to. I've put on five kilos after the last 2 weeks. Too many buns and cakes.
- Hmm, yeah, but if you exercise here regularly you'll be in good shape really soon.
- I'm also thinking about going swimming a couple of days a week.

Dialog B.

- I'm dying for a drink!
- I thought you liked dancing?
- I do. But I need a break. Let's have a drink and a sandwich.
- Ok. Chicken or tuna?
- Chicken. And a glass of mineral water, still.

Dialog C.

- So, what's wrong with you?
- I don't really know. But my feet hurts and it's getting worse every day.
- When did you first feel the pain?
- Hmmm. 3 days ago. At first I thought it's because of my intensive courses in mu fitness club, I didn't pay too much attention, but yesterday we had a party and I had to leave almost at once as it was difficult not only to dance, but to walk.

- Well, we should x-ray your foot just to make sure everything is all right with the bones.

Dialog D.

- Where are we going now?
- To sport square!
- Gosh, you never done any sport!
- Right, so it's a good time to start.
- Because you put on some extra kilos?
- Mainly. But also because it's a mega sale in the sport square! I can buy everything in a half price!

Speaker A. I didn't plan it actually. It was my aunt who suggested that I should join them. She and my cousins were going to spend a few days at the seaside. And my aunt asked mum to let me go with them. We got to the seaside by train. It took a bit longer than I'd expected, but it was fun because of my cousins' company. We played Scrabble and watched films. At the seaside, we stayed in a small family hotel. We swam, and went fishing, and explored the nearby rocks. It was a short but great getaway.

Speaker B. Recently we spent a week in a small village by the seaside. What impressed me most was not the sea but the garden in the hotel where we were staying. The owner of the hotel was an elderly man who was crazy about gardening. He told me a lot about his plans and even gave me the seeds of some exotic flowers I can grow at home. When we got back, I planted them, and... I didn't expect them to grow but they did! And they are growing fast! My friends are really surprised to see how much time I give to my flowers but it's a really exciting pastime.

Speaker C. I haven't been to the seaside for six years already. It's really hard for a person who loves the sea and all sorts of water sports. Fortunately, this June I'm joining my friends for their windsurfing vacation. Now I'm saving for the trip. I have already bought some of the equipment and a friend of mine has promised to give me a few lessons on how to windsurf. It's not easy, I guess, but I enjoy trying new sports whenever I can.

Speaker D. I enjoy travelling and an active lifestyle and spend as much time out as possible in the open air. I love jogging, and roller skating, and cycling of course. The best time for all these activities is September and October when it is not so hot and stuffy as in summer and the air is fresh. The trees and landscape in autumn are beautiful too. Unlike most people I do not look forward to the summer. I look forward to the time when it's over, to enjoy the most beautiful time of the year.

Speaker E. When I'm on holiday, I want to have some quiet time for myself. I don't need company when I take a ride on a bicycle along the country lanes or when I try to do a drawing of a beautiful landscape. My friends suggested that we go to the seaside this summer and were not able to understand why I refused. They said that I just didn't want to spend the holidays with them. They are sort of ignoring me now. It makes me feel sad.

Interviewer: Well... First of all I would like to thank you for agreeing to take part in our survey about teenagers living in Florida.

Respondent: Not a problem at all! I'll be happy to help.

Interviewer: That's great. So, my first question is: have you always lived here in Florida?

Respondent: No. My family moved to Florida when I was fourteen.

Interviewer: And what age are you now?

Respondent: I'm sixteen now, so we've lived here for two years.

Interviewer: Right. Was it difficult to get used to our hot weather?

Respondent: Not really. The thing is, I was born and raised in Texas. In the south of Texas, in fact. So a hot climate is something I've always been used to and really enjoyed.

Interviewer: I see. What did you find most difficult about moving to Florida?

Respondent: Living next to the ocean and having to go to school and study all the time.

Interviewer: Would you rather go to the beach?

Respondent: Sure! I've always liked swimming. Back in Texas, I was the best swimmer at school. Here I have also started surfing. It is a new sport for me but I'm getting a little better at it.

Interviewer: So, now that you live next to the beach, where do you spend your vacations?

Respondent: As a family, we enjoy going to big cities for vacation, like New York or Boston, or Washington D.C.

Interviewer: Really? Why?

Respondent: That's where the best museums are. I really like art. My whole family – my parents and my two brothers – share this hobby of mine.

Interviewer: Is it just a hobby? Or would you like to become an artist – maybe an architect or a designer?

Respondent: Actually, I've been thinking about it. Not only architecture and design, but also book illustration or even creating comic books. But I don't think I'm talented enough for that. I'd rather be a teacher. A teacher of history. Art is a big part of human history, you know.

Interviewer: Of course. Do you enjoy studying history at school?

Respondent: I enjoy studying many subjects at school. Like Literature and Science. But there's no other subject I like more than history. Maybe because I really like my history teacher. I guess, this is where I got my idea for my own career.

Interviewer: I see. A few more questions, if I may?

Respondent: Sure, go ahead...

Dear Ben,

Thank you for your letter, I liked it a lot. I apologize I didn't answer you earlier, didn't have enough time.

It's good that you could go to the cinema. As for me, I prefer watching comedies because they help me relax and just laugh a lot. Honestly speaking I like watching films at home with my family and friends. I think it's the best place for watching films because there is modern home cinema system in my house, you know. If I had a chance, I would make a film about my friends and our adventures.

Write back soon.

Best wishes,

David

Millions of people all over the world travel to see other countries and continents, modern cities and ancient towns. They travel not only for a change of scene but also to enjoy picturesque places. I believe it is really interesting to discover new places, meet unusual people, get acquainted with various exciting cultures and nations, try different food and listen to brand new musical rhythms. People choose means of transport to their liking, as all of them have advantages and disadvantages. Usually, people travel by train, by boat, by plane or by car. If you want to get somewhere as quickly as possible the best way is to travel by plane. Time passes quickly and we can enjoy every moment. But many people are very nervous passengers in aeroplanes, probably because these passengers have no control over their fate in this case. They know they cannot change anything in case of emergency and this makes the flight uncomfortable for them. I prefer to travel by plane, as I believe that it is the safest form. I try to enjoy every moment and learn a lot of new things every time I have a trip. My life is impossible without travelling.
